APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Basic Eligibility for Licensure

You must hold an active real estate license in good standing in the state or United States territory where your primary place of real estate business is located (your “qualifying state”) and you may not be a resident of North Carolina. You are not required to be licensed in the state where you reside.

Criminal Record Report Requirement

You must obtain a criminal record report from Criminal Record Check (CRC) and submit it with your application. A report prepared by CRC within the previous six months is the only report acceptable to the Commission. Online requests are preferred. Contact:

CriminalRecordCheck.com (CRC)
Website: www.ncreccheck.com
Email: licensing@mycrc.com
Telephone (toll free): 877-272-0266 Ext 2651
Telephone (direct): 919-459-2651

CRC will collect from you all personal information necessary to conduct a search of criminal records in each state and/or county where you have resided during the past seven years. The searches will be conducted for each different name you have used during that period. The report will show all felony and misdemeanor convictions (including traffic convictions) on record for you, not just those that occurred in the past seven years. CRC is authorized to charge a separate fee for (1) collecting and verifying personal data, (2) each state or county record searched and (3) each additional name for which a search is conducted. Thus, the cost of obtaining the criminal record report will vary depending on the number of different residences and names you have had during the past seven years. “Effective July 1, 2021, the criminal record report must also include a federal background check.”

Most criminal record reports involving a search of out-of-state records will be provided in 5-7 business days - searches of records in a few states will require more time.

Application Procedures for Applicants with Character Issues

You will be considered to have a “character issue” requiring special consideration if you: (1) Have a criminal record report showing a criminal conviction; (2) answered (or should have answered) “Yes” to any of Items 9, 10 or 11 on the application form; or (3) have any other past experience that may reflect adversely on your character.

“Character issues” will be considered by the Commission only after you have satisfied all other license qualification requirements. You will then be notified in writing of the Commission’s decision. If you have a “character issue” in connection with your application, allow the Commission 45 days to complete its evaluation before inquiring about the status of your application.

An inquiry may be made by the Commission to obtain additional information about your character, and this inquiry may include further search of criminal and civil records and/or a credit report. The Commission also may request additional information from you and may require you to furnish fingerprints for the purpose of retrieving additional criminal history information.

Program Highlights

- General. If you hold an active real estate broker or salesperson license in the state where your primary place of real estate business is located (your “qualifying state”), and if you also reside in a state other than North Carolina, you may obtain a North Carolina Limited Nonresident Commercial Real Estate Broker License without having to take any prelicense education or license examination. Your “qualifying state” and state of residence need not be the same state, nor is it necessary for your “qualifying state” to offer a similar licensing option to North Carolina licensees.
- Applying for License. You may obtain an application form and instructions from the Real Estate Commission office or by accessing the Commission’s website at www.ncrec.gov. The application fee is $100. You are required to submit a certification of license history issued by the real estate licensing agency in your qualifying state and other states where you have held a license during the previous five (5) years. It must show your license history, license status and any disciplinary actions. You must also obtain and submit a criminal record report from the agency named on page 3 of the license application form to assist the Commission in evaluating your moral character and fitness to practice real estate. Licenses will be issued within a few days after the Commission receives your complete application; however, if your application involves a character issue, it may require 45 days or more for consideration.
- License Privileges and Limitations. With a limited nonresident commercial license, you may perform real estate brokerage acts in North Carolina for compensation with the following limitations:
 1. You may only engage in transactions involving “commercial real estate” as defined in Real Estate Commission Rule 21 NCAC 58A.1802;
 2. You must, prior to using your license, enter into a brokerage cooperation agreement and declaration of affiliation with a resident North Carolina broker, and you must be supervised by the North Carolina broker while performing brokerage services in North Carolina [see Commission rule 21 NCAC 58A.1807]; and
 3. All advertising related to North Carolina brokerage activities must identify you as a “Limited Nonresident Commercial Real Estate (Broker or Salesperson).”
- North Carolina Resident Broker Responsibilities. The North Carolina resident broker must: (1) verify your licensure as a limited nonresident commercial licensee; (2) actively and personally supervise you (whether a salesperson or broker) to assure compliance with the North Carolina Real Estate License Law and Commission rules; (3) hold all trust monies received by you in connection with your brokerage services in North Carolina; (4) maintain transaction records and copies of cooperation and affiliation agreements; and (5) if you are affiliated with a broker or firm, pay any compensation you earn in connection with North Carolina brokerage activities to your employing broker or firm.
- Compliance with North Carolina Laws and Rules. You and the North Carolina broker with whom you are affiliated must fully comply with all applicable North Carolina laws and rules. You may be disciplined by the North Carolina Real Estate Commission in the same manner as any other North Carolina real estate licensee.
- License Period and Renewal. The license will expire on the next June 30 after issuance and each June 30 thereafter unless renewed in June of each year.
- Accessing License Law and Rules. The North Carolina Real Estate License Law is codified in Chapter 93A of the General Statutes and the Real Estate Commission’s Rules are contained in Title 21 of the North Carolina Administrative Code, Chapter 58A. The License Law and Commission rules may be accessed on the Commission’s website at www.ncrec.gov. You may also purchase a booklet ($4.00) containing the License Law and Rules through the website.
- Declaration and Cooperation Agreement Forms. The prescribed “Declaration of Affiliation” form will be provided with each new license issued and is otherwise available through the Commission’s website at www.ncrec.gov. North Carolina brokers who are REALTORS® may obtain a “Brokerage Cooperation Agreement” form from the N. C. Association of REALTORS®.
